CAUTION.—We beg leave to caution purchasers of our choice OLD MONONGAHELA WHISKIES against the deception and petty fraud which is practiced by certain parties in this city and in Baltimore, who have appropriated to themselves exact copies of the Star Brands, long used and designed by us to distinguish our Old Whiskeys. We can assure our friends and customers, that the unrivalled quality, everywhere acknowledged, of our choice OLD WHISKIES, cannot be equalled by these ingenious invaders of our rights.
Our new establishment,—GIBSONTON MILLS, on the Monongahela River, gives us unequalled facilities for making Whiskey of the choicest kind, from malted and kiln-dried grain.
Purchasers of our Old Whiskies will please to notice, the words GIBSONTON MILLS and JOHN GIBSON, SONS & CO., are inserted in the new Brands which we now adopt; and we deem it a duty to our customers and ourselves, to give notice, that we will prosecute and expose any person or persons who may hereafter copy or use our Brands.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

PRESENCE OF MIND AND COMMON SENSE.

If a man faint a way, says Hall's Journal of Health, instead of yelling out like a savage, or running to him to lift him up, lay him at full length on his back, on the floor, loosen the clothing, push the crowd away so as to allow the air to reach him, and let him alone. Dashing water over a person in a simple fainting fit is a barbarity. The philosophy of a fainting fit is that the heart fails to send the proper supply of blood to the brain; if the person is erect, that blood has to be thrown up hill; but if lying down it has to be projected horizontally, which requires less power, as apparent.

If a person swallow poison deliberately or by chance, instead of breaking out into multitudinous or incoherent exclamations, despatch some one for the doctor; meanwhile run to the kitchen, get half a glass of water in anything that is handy, put into it a tea-spoonful of salt and as much ground mustard, stir it an instant, catch a firm hold of the person's nose, the mouth will soon fly open—then down with the mixture, and in a second or two up will come the poison. This will answer better in a large number cases, than any other. If, by this time the physician has not arrived, make the patient swallow the white of an egg, followed by a cup of strong coffee, because these nullify a larger number of poisons than any other accessible articles, as antidotes for any poison that may remain in the stomach.

If a limb or other part of the body is severely cut, and the blood comes out by spirts and jerks, be in a hurry, or the man will be dead in five minutes; there is no time to talk or send for a physician—say nothing; out with your handkerchief; throw it around the limb, tie the two ends together, put a stick through them, twist it around tighter and tighter until the blood ceases to flow. But to stop it does no good. Why? Because only a severed artery throws blood out in jets and the arteries get their blood from the heart; hence, to stop a flow, the remedy must be applied between the heart and the wounded spot—in other words, above the wound. If a vein had been severed, the blood would have flowed in a regular stream, and, on the other hand, the tie should be applied below the wound, or on the other side of the wound from the heart, because the blood in the veins flows towards the heart, and there is no need of so great a hurry.

GOOD ADVICE.—[BY A QUAINT OLD POET.]

Ye who would save your features florid,
Lithe limbs, bright eyes, unwrinkled forehead,
From age's devastation horrid,
Adopt the plan—
'Twill make, in climates cold or torrid,
A hale old man.

Avoid in youth luxurious diet;
Restrain the passions' lawless riot;
Devoted to domestic quiet,
Be wisely gay;
So shall ye, spite of age's fiat,
Resist decay.

Seek not in mammon's worship pleasure,
But seek your richest, dearest treasure,
In books, friends, music, polished leisure;
The mind, not sense,
Makes the sole scale by which you measure
Your opulence.

This is the solace, this the science,
Life's purest, sweetest, best appliance,
That disappoints not man's reliance,
Whate'er his state,
But challenges with calm defiance,
Fame, fortune, fate.

AMERICAN ANTIQUARIAN SOCIETY

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS

ALEXANDRIA:

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 7, 1859.

JOHN ROBERTSON, of Richmond, a consistent disciple of the old Republican party of Virginia, whose creed was, and is, the tenets of that party as expounded by Jefferson, Madison, Taylor of Caroline, and other teachers of the State Rights school, and who formerly represented the Richmond district in Congress, with distinguished ability, is again a candidate for Congress. He has issued an Address to the people of his district, remarkable for its manly independence, and its vigor; and which, we doubt not, will have a decided effect (no matter what the issue of the election may be) not only in his own district, but throughout the State.

From this Address, we extract the following, in relation to the Distribution of the Public Lands, or proceeds of their sales, among all the states. This measure, advocated by the Whigs, has been always opposed by the modern Democratic party, as a Federal heresy. Hear, now, what a genuine, old fashioned Jefferson Republican, says of this same "Federal heresy."

"I uniformly advocated such a distribution, as in strict accordance with the terms of the deed by which Virginia had ceded a rich and extensive portion of her ancient domain. Of the rights of all the States, and most especially of our own, to participate in the distribution of these and other public lands, I did not then, nor do I now, entertain a shadow of doubt; and, I have the high satisfaction of believing, that the views I presented upon that subject received the approbation of Mr. Madison, the author of the Report and Resolutions of '98—the chief founder of the political school at which I imbibed my creed. The question of our title, so far as relates to the lands ceded by us, is one of a purely judicial character arising under a plain deed of trust, recognized and ratified by the Federal compact. That it ever should have been made a political test, is among the strangest, and, in its influence upon the rights and interests of Virginia, most pernicious results of party spirit. While the public lands and their proceeds have been lavishly granted for the benefit of the new States, railroad corporations, and for various other purposes, without a just equivalent, or at a great sacrifice, we have magnanimously battled against the far juster claim of our own State. We grasp at the territorial possessions of foreign nations, but regard it as a point of honor to refuse what is our own rightful property. I will not trouble you now with an extended argument. I verily believe, could the parties be convened before an impartial tribunal, the United States would be convicted of a fraudulent breach of trust; the new States compelled to disgorge or account for the excess of the shares to which they have in a great measure helped themselves by means of their own votes, and many of the donations for other purposes unhesitatingly set aside.

Although vast tracts of public lands have, as already said, been given to particular States, railroad companies, &c., no distribution among the States generally of land or the land fund specially, was ever made.—Virginia never received by direct grant an acre of the one, or a dollar of the other. But in 1836 a measure of a kindred character was adopted, under which the old States, "Virginia inclusive," were permitted to come in for shares. I allude to "The Act to regulate the Deposites of the Public Money."—This act conformed to a recommendation made by General Jackson in his first message, (who then regarded distribution as a SAFE, JUST AND FEDERAL measure,) and was approved by him. It was in the form of a loan or deposite, and so called as a salvo to quiet his scruples and those of others who, knowing that the surplus necessarily included a part of the proceeds of the sales of the public land, thought they might lend us a part of our just share in our own property, which they could never find it in their consciences to give us; though they could freely give that property to others, having certainly no higher claims. Nobody believed that this pretended loan would ever be reclaimed or returned. It never has been; it never will be. If the time could ever arrive, when such a demand might be made, it would surely be now, when through the wasteful extravagance and corrupt practices of the Federal Government and its agents, the treasury is on the very eve of bankruptcy.

Under this act Virginia received upwards of two millions of dollars in 1837;—less, perhaps, than her just quota. I rejoice that my vote contributed to restore to her this small portion of the amount which had been unjustly, if not fraudulently, extorted from her. Had she always received even this diminished share, whenever donations have been made to other States, or for other purposes, she would not only have probably arrested the extravagant and profligate expenditures of the Federal Government, but have replenished her own treasury with funds enabling her to endow largely her common schools and higher seminaries of education, and carry on extensive works of internal improvement."

Those who have been taught to vote against the Distribution of the proceeds of the Public Lands, will ponder upon the above.

We add the following extracts from Mr. Robertson's Address, in relation to the Administration, and its measures, and the general condition of the country, without a single comment, confident that they will receive the earnest attention of all dispassionate men:—

"A leading Democratic paper commenting on President Buchanan's last annual message, denounced his marked and frequent departures from the faith of the Democratic Republican party. To the instances enumerated by that paper, I added others, far more marked and dangerous. In letters published in the "Enquirer" during the last winter, over my own signature, or initials, I presented the inquiry, Shall we have a Dictator? and pointed to the facts which induced me to fear that, at no distant day, such might be our destiny. Without insisting on the charge made against Mr. Buchanan (for whom I may take occasion to say I voted) of bidding high, I clearly agree with one of his former supporters that his Federal principles, to which he has seemingly returned, do not fall short of those of Alexander Hamilton.

I will not repeat the views presented in the letters alluded to. They related chiefly (1) to the determination avowed by Mr. Buchanan, to enter on a certain contingency a foreign territory, with an armed force, notwithstanding his distinct admission of the want of constitutional authority—in plain English, to violate the Constitution and his oath; (2) to his application to Congress for money to negotiate for the purchase of Cuba; and (3) to the bill presented by Senator Slidell, in conformity with his wishes, "to facilitate the acquisition of Cuba." Commenting on these propositions, I endeavored to show that, "in the space of a few months, under a Democratic Republican Administration, schemes were afloat, changing the essential features of our Government, by concentrating its chief powers in the hands of one man"—giving him power

To make war;

To borrow millions at his discretion, and without restriction as to the rate of interest; and therefore, indirectly,

To tax the people;

Power to appropriate millions—at his discretion—and,

To carry into execution treaties made by himself, and never ratified by the Senate.

In addition to all this, the public money has been squandered with unexampled extravagance until, in a time of profound peace, with a revenue more than adequate to meet all expenses under an economical Administration, our public debt has suddenly risen up to many millions, and, it is to be feared, is still on the rise.

As to the idle and insulting proposition to purchase Cuba, after the recent repeated and indignant rejection by Spain of every such overture—this Cuban bribe of thirty millions by way of earnest towards a proffer of two or three hundred millions more—I am, myself, much at a loss to comprehend its mighty advantages. Certainly I do not see that Virginia is to be essentially benefitted, even were it gratuitously offered for our acceptance.—We can acquire it in no way but at the hazard of foreign war, costing us, perhaps, some two or three hundred millions more, and domestic feuds far more to be deprecated than foreign war or any waste of public treasure. The mere interest of the portion which would in some way or other be contributed by Virginia, would probably amount to a sum of five or six hundred thousand dollars annually forever. And what would she gain? Nothing, so far as I can see, but the chance of buying sugar a few cents cheaper in the pound, to the loss of the Louisiana planter; bringing Havana cigars and tobacco in competition with one of her own great staples, and drawing from us our already insufficient laboring population.

Witnessing the enormous abuses before their eyes, well might honest Democratic Senators, breaking the shackles of party, concur, as they are said to have done, in expressing their belief that there is not under the Heavens a Government as corrupt as that of the United States.

To what causes are we to ascribe the abuses of which we complain? Is it not chiefly the work of the "Demon of Party?"—Party organization? Party drill? Do we, the people, really govern the country, or have we committed our rights and liberties to the safe-keeping of partizan editors, scheming political managers, and packed caucusses? Under the principles—if principles they may be called—of party discipline, could General Washington himself, were he to re-appear on earth, be elevated to the dignity of door-keeper to the Presidential mansion? It is as notorious as it is monstrous, that among a people, boasting of a free government, the whole official corps of the Union, created by the President, are, with perhaps few exceptions, bound by self-interest, if not by a tacit understanding, to support the man from whom they receive their daily bread, not merely by their votes and influence, but there is ground to fear by contributions from their salaries. Servility—abject servility—is well nigh the sole passport to party favor. I beg you to reflect for a moment how these deadly weapons of party may be turned against our own dearest rights and interests. Parties are rapidly becoming more and more sectional. Let us suppose, that at the next election a Black Republican—a Fremont or a Seward—shall be raised to the Presidency. How long would it be before every office in his gift, North and South, would be filled with wretches willing to adopt his sentiments? How long before we should have a standing army of venal Abolition propagandists billeted upon us, working day and night to sap our institutions, and ready at the beck of the Commander-in-Chief, to rob us of our rights and property?"

We referred, a few days ago, to the interest that is felt all over the State, by the Whigs especially, in the result of the election in this Congressional District. We have a farther evidence of this, in a letter which is now before us, from a highly respectable and intelligent gentleman, in the western part of the State, who has been for several years past, a member of the Legislature. He writes as follows:—"If the people of your district know what Mr. THOMAS has done for them—how he has attended to their interests—promoted their prosperity—prevented, by his tact and zeal, injury from coming upon them—and furthered the cause of their internal improvements, I do not see how they can refuse him their support. If the people along the line of the Orange and Alexandria and Manassas Gap Railroads can vote against him, they must obliterate all recollection of his faithful services. There is not a man of them who ought not to work faithfully in his behalf." He then speaks of the duty of the Whigs in this behalf, and of the expectation that is entertained by their political brethren, that they will exert themselves strenuously to send, at least, one man to the Capitol, to raise there the Whig banner, and to represent their political sentiments. The whole letter is written with feeling and spirit, and if it were intended for publication, we would give it entire. The above, however, is its substance and language, and expresses what is the public sentiment of the Whigs of Virginia.

The Washington States is indignant at the reported employment of the Chevalier Wykoff, and Francis G. Grund, as government agents or employees abroad. It demands of the administration if such a "disgrace," as it calls it, has been permitted.—It says that, if employed, they are not in such capacities as will bring them under the scrutiny of the Senate, for that body, it is known, would reject them, without hesitation.

The United States Consul at Sydney, N. S. W., writing to a friend in New York, as we learn from the Nantucket Inquirer, reports that Hall and Burns, two of the mutineers of the ship Junior, who escaped from the officers, at the time Plummer and his associates were captured, remained in the woods until nearly starved, when they made their appearance. They were immediately arrested and tried, and at the time of his writing he had just returned from witnessing their execution.

News of the Day.

"To show the very age and body of the TIMES."

Silver dollars have become exceedingly rare. A letter from San Francisco states that their coinage is soon to be commenced at the mint in that city. This is thought a matter of considerable importance, as it is hoped that the Chinese can be induced to take the American dollars instead of the Mexican, which are at a premium; and that by that means the discount on over $2,000,000, which amount of silver is annually exported to China, may be saved to the merchants of this country.

On the 17th of January, the Champlain, 513 tons, Capt. While in port she unfortunately took fire and was consumed, sinking in 18 feet of water. She was a fine vessel, and not insured.

Dr. Henry Bond, an eminent physician of Philadelphia, died suddenly on Wednesday, of an affection of the heart, aged 70 years. From the last issue of the Shelbyville Expositor, we learn of a terrible tragedy in Bedford county, Tennessee. A man by the name of Allen had reason to suspect the fidelity of his wife, and charged a man named Hardy with being her seducer. The latter indignantly denied the charge, using abusive language. Infuriated by a positive knowledge of the great wrong that had been done him, Allen rushed upon his adversary and stabbed him to death. He then surrendered himself to the legal authorities.

Pennsylvania Politics.

The anti-Buchanan or "States Rights" Democratic Central Committee of Pennsylvania, of which Colonel Forney is the leader, met at Altoona, in that State, on Wednesday, and adopted among others, the following resolutions:

First—That it is inexpedient at the present time to nominate a State ticket.

Second—Formally proclaiming an unalterable opposition to the doctrine of Congressional intervention in relation to slavery in the Territories, as advocated by the Republicans in the platform of 1856 for the prohibition of slavery in the Territories, or as advocated by the administration democrats, for the protection of slavery in the Territories.

Third—Recommending the friends of popular sovereignty to vote for no candidate at the coming and future elections for county, State, or national offices, who refuse to stand clearly upon the doctrine which recognizes the principle that the Territories like those of a State shall form and regulate their own domestic institutions in their own way.

Mormons Coming.

We are informed that a Mormon Elder has been in this city and made arrangements with H. W. Love, to have between 50 and 100 hand carts made as soon as possible, to be used in crossing the Plains the coming summer. Between 3,000 and 4,000 of the faithful followers of Prince Brigham, are expected here between the 1st and 10th of next month. They purchase their wagons in Chicago, but they are to come here and lay in a stock of provisions and the necessary outfit for the trip. The Mormons are mostly English, Welsh and Danes, and will most probably go better prepared to endure the hardships of the journey than did those who went out in the summer of 1856.—Iowa City Republican, April 19.

Austria's Financial Troubles.

"So desperate is the state of the Austrian finances that the Government is said to have seized upon the metallic reserve of the Bank of Vienna. A forced loan is also supposed to be in contemplation, to the great alarm of the wealthier portion of the community."

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

WAR DAILY EXPECTED!!

HALIFAX, May 5.—The steamship Niagara has arrived here, with Liverpool advices of the 23d ultimo, containing alarming intelligence from the Continent.

Austria had sent an ultimatum to Sardinia, demanding her disarmament and the disbanding of her volunteers, giving three days for its consideration. If a refusal shall follow, Austria will immediately declare war.

Eighty thousand more Austrian troops are ordered to Ticino.

Austria had rejected England's final proposition for peace.

The French troops are moving towards Piedmont.

There was a panic at the Paris Bourse.

The three days given Sardinia by Austria, in which to consider the latter's ultimatum, would expire on the evening of the 24th ultimo. The English Government had telegraphed to Vienna a strong protest against Austria's menace. It was reported that Austria had replied, refusing to reconsider her resolve, and had already prepared a manifesto to accompany her declaration of war.

There was an active movement in France. Troops were concentrating on the Sardinian frontier, at Toulon, and at other convenient points.

The English holydays prevented a full development of the effect of the news on the commercial world, and the funds. The Paris Bourse, however, fell three per cent.

England's final proposition to Austria was a general disarmament by means of commissioners from the Powers, including Sardinia, and admitting the Italian States to the Congress, as at Laybach. All except Austria gave their assent.

The Paris Patrie says that Gen. Marmora has informed the French Government by telegraph, that the Austrian army had made a significant movement on the strategetical line of Ticino, and that he feared an attack at any moment. Napoleon held a council of Ministers, which was attended by the Princes Jerome and Napoleon, as princes of the blood. The King of Sardinia also held a council of Ministers on Thursday.

VIENNA, Friday.—The following official statement is published: "Piedmont, which has for some years past endangered Austria's rights, has been summoned most urgently by Austria to disarm. Besides this demand, expressly addressed to Piedmont, Austria adheres firmly to her proposal for a general disarmament, although she cannot make that proposal subordinate to the summons she has sent to Sardinia."

The Constitutionnel announces that a part of the army of Paris has been ordered to be ready to march.

LONDON, Saturday.—The Daily News says the reply of the Emperor of Austria has been received. That Power declines to reconsider the responsibility incurred in commencing a war in the heart of Europe. Count Buol declares that his master, has taken his course, and will pursue it to the end.

The London Times says the Imperial manifesto which is to accompany the declaration of war against Sardinia is already prepared. Austria, the mistress of her position, is ready, by act of state and deed of war, to initiate the sanguine drama upon which the curtain is about to rise. There is no doubt that a general movement of the French forces has taken place on the entire Piedmontese frontier.

The English journals generally think that the last chance of peace has vanished. The London Herald gives in a semi-official form specific and exclusive information as to the movements of the French army. It says that orders have been given for the embarkation at Toulon of 30,000 men, but that the troops will not sail until further orders. The divisions at Lyons, Grenoble, Besancon, &c., are also ordered to be ready to march at a moment's notice, but not to move until the receipt of further instructions. The total French force designed to operate with Sardinia in the event of a war is fully 80,000, and will be in two divisions; one under Canrobert, and the other under Baraguay d'Hilliers, and the whole under the Emperor in person.

The London Stock Exchange was closed from the 21st to the 23d; the result of the crisis is therefore only partially developed. The news transpired after the official close on the 21st. Consols were offered, without sales, at 94¼—a decline of one per cent. on the highest point of the day. The panic in the French Bourse on the 21st continued on the 22d, it being at one time reported that an actual engagement had taken place on the banks of the Ticino. The market closed flat at 94f. 90c—a fall of over 3 per cent. in two days.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times telegraphs, Thursday noon, as follows:

"Day before yesterday Austria forwarded a categorical summons to Sardinia to dissolve the free corps: a reply to be given within three days from the receipt of the summons, and an evasive answer would be considered equivalent to a refusal."

The Paris Moniteur of Friday says that Austria had not given her adhesion to the proposition made by England and accepted by France, Russia, and Prussia; besides which it appears that the Cabinet at Vienna had resolved upon addressing a direct communication to the Cabinet at Turin, in order to obtain the disarmament of Piedmont. In consequence of these facts in Emperor has ordered a concentration of several divisions of the army on the frontiers of Piedmont.

The sales of cotton at Liverpool for five days were 29,000 bales, closing at 1-16@⅛ decline, principally on the middling and lower qualities, while fair remained generally unchanged: Fair Orleans 8⅛; Uplands 7½; middling Orleans 7½; Uplands 6 15-16. Manchester advices were unfavorable.

Contracts Falling Due on Sunday.

A very important question has been raised and decided in the Superior Court of New York, upon this subject. The particular case was that of a policy of life insurance expiring on Sunday, the premium upon the renewal of which was not tendered till the following Monday. But the discussion involved the whole question as to fulfilling any contract, the day for doing which comes upon Sunday. The general notion is that in all such cases the contract must be performed, or the offer made to do it, on the preceding Saturday. But the court in this case overruled the motion and declared that when from accident or mutual error, the day of fulfilling an agreement falls upon Sunday, there is enough of principle and authority to justify the party in deferring his performance to the Monday ensuing, without impairing a right or incurring a forfeiture.

Harriet Martineau says:—"The Bonapartes are not men of character, of political wisdom, of patriotic temper, of philosophical sagacity. They are low in aim, vulgar in quality of intellect, and consequently in manners, and by no prepossessions inclined to rescue Italy for the advantage of the Italians. They are regarded as selfish adventurers rather than as emancipators of nations.

Later from Cuba and Hayti.

NEW ORLEANS, May 5.—The steamer Quaker City's mails embrace advices from Port-au-Prince to the 15th ult. The brig African, from New York, arrived there on the 12th, with some 35 fillibusters, and 240 guns and other munitions of war on board, having attempted but failed to land at Nuevas Grandes, on the coast of Cuba. The attempt was made on the 7th, but the boats were swamped, and the munitions placed in them were lost. The owners of the African had received a thousand dollars advance of the amount to be paid for the service.

The Spanish consul at Hayti had notified Gen. Concha, who had dispatched a steamer to capture the fillibusters. Nothing had been heard of any other fillibustering vessels.

Later advices received from Hayti to-day indicate the prevalence of quietness in that country, and an increased popularity of the new President. The soldiers were being discharged from the regular army, and being entered in the national guard.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The steamer Cahawba, from Havana, with advices to the 30th ultimo, arrived here this evening. The advices confirm the account of the failure of the fillibuster expedition against Cuba, and add that they were wrecked on the Island of St. Domingo, and there remain, dependent on charity. The guns in possession of the fillibusters were put into the public stores at Port-au-Prince.

At Havana the sugar market was slightly depressed—stock, 200,000 boxes.

Reports from Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Official advices received from Vera Cruz mention as a rumor that the principal cause of Gen. Degellade's retreat was the destruction of his ammunition by the explosion of a shell at Tacubaya. The only cities in posession of Miramon are Codora, Orizaba and Mexico. Three thousand troops under Gen. Ampudia were marching towards the last named city and Gen. Garcia was moving in the same direction by way of Huasteca, with 1,500 men. These would be joined by 4,000 men from San Louis Potosi together with Degallade's forces and others from the South. The reactionary army in the city of Mexico does not number more than 6,000 men.

Col. Carlos Butterfield has obtained from the Juarez government an extension of the time for commencing his contract for his mail service betwen the United States and Mexican ports.

It is known here that our government can obtain a right of way over Mexican territory to Arizona, with an outlet at Guaymas, on the Gulf of California. The importance of such an arrangement has for months occupied the attention of our government, especially with reference to saving the time and expense incurred in the transportation of supplies and troops to the Pacific coast. It is highly probable that these subjects will be embraced in the instructions to our minister, Mr. McLane, as calculated to strengthen the friendship between the two countries.

A Difference of Opinion.

The new organ of the Administration, the Constitution, says the Mobile Register, possesses a happy and hopeful disposition. It thus paints, coleur de rose, the sound and harmonious condition of the Democratic party of the Union:

"It fills the heart of a Democrat with pride to contrast the position of his own party with that of the Opposition, &c. It matters not where you meet a true Democrat—whether in Massachusetts or Virginia—you will find him the advocate of the same cardinal doctrines of constitutional right and justice.—He carries with him the same platform of principles. His note book for Maine answers as well for Florida and Minnesota as for his own State. It requires no change of programme for each locality in which his battle is to be fought."

The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser, in commenting on the above, says:

"Now, we would that this were a true picture. We do not believe it is, nor do we see the wisdom, much less the honesty, of saying so, and thus trying to deceive ourselves or others. So far from its being the truth, if there is a common ground upon which the party, North and South, could stand if called into the Charleston Convention today, we are not able to see it, and we have puzzled our brain hugely to make the discovery. "We are bound to confess we have never seen the time when political 'confusion was worse confounded.'"

A Defaulting Shoe Dealer.

One Henry Morris has been swindling his creditors at Toledo, Ohio. He gave out that his brother was dead, closed his store, and tied crape on the door. The Blade says:

To-day, however, strange to relate, the crape was still waving from the shoemaker's doors, and no signs of life were visible about the establishment. Suspicion was, perhaps, started by the noticeable fact that a very small portion of crape was allowed for his brotherly mourning demonstration, coupled with the report that certain friends of his were "severely bound" by certain instruments of writing, much to their pecuniary disadvantage, in case of any "accident," and an examination of the premises was resolved on.

"'Twas said—'twas done, and lo!"—a beggarly account of empty boxes, and a stock of boots and shoes non est, proved to be the only remains for which the crape did duty.—The enterprising merchant and his goods were gone! Whether his creditors will each attach a piece of that "weed," by which to remember their bereaved friend, or not, we won't pretend to say, but we do think that this mourning dodge will pass muster among the sharpest tricks of the day.

On the 26th day of April, 1819, just forty years ago, at the house of William Lupton, sign of the Seven Stars, Second street, Baltimore, Thomas Wildey, and four others, being the only five members of the Order who could be found in that city, met and formed themselves into Lodge No. 1. Very soon after this, foreseeing the evils that would ensue, if the system of self-institution was continued, they applied to and obtained from a competent legal authority—the Duke of York Lodge, of Preston, England—a charter by which they were legally constituted and duly authorized as the head of the Order, to grant charters and exercise supreme authority within the United States. From this humble commencement originated the Grand Lodge of the United States, and the State Grand Lodges, and contributing members.—Petersburg Exp.

Gilt-Edged Paper.

The Cleveland Herald learns that three of the banks in that city have lately had a nice rap over the knuckles to the tune of eighty-five thousand dollars. This was on produce paper—paper known in financial circles as gilt-edged paper—paper which had so much apparent gold on its surface that all else save its face was lost sight of. One of the banks is said to hold $45,000 of this gilt-edged paper, another over $30,000, and a third $10,000. The discounts were made on drafts drawn on a commission house in New York, the proceeds of paper invested in produce, which was sent forward. The drawers and acceptors, if the adventure had been fortunate, would have divided profits with the discounting banks, but as it was not fortunate, the banks must stand the loss.

A Swindler Absconded.

Simultaneously with the retirement of Commodore Stringham from the command of the Charleston Navy Yard, certain developments are made, which implicate J. A. Bartlett,—who for three years has filled the post of confidential secretary to the Commodore—in a series of swindling operations, in which not only the Government but numerous private individuals and firms have been victimized.

Bartlett, who was formerly a lawyer in New York, was accepted by Commodore Stringham upon the recommendation of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher at a salary of $800 a year. At the time of entering upon his duties here, he was accompanied by his wife, and their entire personal effects were contained in a single trunk and carpet bag; but so shrewdly had he financiered, that upon returning to New York, last week, under peculiar circumstances, which will presently appear, his goods and chattels amounted to six truck loads, most of which appear to have been obtained under false pretences.

Among the losers by his operations is a well known firm of manufacturing jewelers, on Washington street, of whom he obtained about $100 in goods and money; a well known music dealer, who holds one or two notes for $125 each, given in payment for a piano, and a gentleman on State street, of whom he borrowed $250, and upon whose claim Bartlett was arrested by deputy sheriff Dearborn, of Charlestown, one day last week. In order to escape the meshes of the law, he gave a bill of sale of the piano, on which he owed $125. He ordered, in the name of Commodore Stringham, of a stationer in State street, about $450 worth of Government blanks, in consideration of the profits on which, he obtained a discount of his own note for a considerable amount.

The evidence of his rascality accumulating too rapidly for his safety, Bartlett fled the city on Thursday last, and his wife, who seems to partake largely of the peculiarity of her husband, following him soon after, had the assurance, with the balance of Bartlett's salary, amounting to about $75, in her pocket, to direct the hackman who conveyed her to the cars, to call on Commodore Stringham for his pay.

Since his departure it has been discovered that Bartlett has obtained several hundred dollars worth of postage stamps, which he has applied to his own use, and it is whispered that the government are further losers through the unaccountable disappearance of some letters connected with a contract for lumber, in which Bartlett is supposed to have been a gainer. He is also said to have ordered goods in various places in the name of Commodore Stringham, to the amount of $400 or $500.

He has enjoyed the unqualified esteem and confidence of the Commodore; been foremost in the religious education of the sailors and marines in the Navy Yard; he was an efficient and to all appearances a consistent member of the Young Men's Christian Association, and took an active part in the prayer meetings held in the hospital at Chelsea. His transactions have created considerable scandal where he is known, and measures have been taken by some of those who are sufferers by his operations to have him brought to justice.—Boston Journal.

Buried Alive.

A singular circumstance, says the Albany Knickerbocker of the 27th, came to light on opening a vault attached to one of our burial-grounds, on Sunday last. The body of a female, who was deposited therein for dead, some two months since, was found, on opening the coffin, lying on her side with one hand under her head. From this it is evident that the woman was alive when placed there, and, awaking from the trance in which she had fallen, endeavored to extricate herself. This was impossible, the cover was not only screwed down tightly, but the space was too contracted to allow even an effort.

It was evident, however, that the unfortunate woman became convinced of this fact, and concluded to die. She therefore took the easy posture in which she was found, and breathed her last. The thought that they had buried her while yet alive set her friends almost crazed. The body was that of a woman who formerly resided in the Bowery. The father and mother of the deceased had just arrived from the old country last week, and were brought to the vault to see their child. The scene is related as heart-rending.

SMITH O'BRIEN ON THE CONDITION OF THE IRISH IN AMERICA.—Mr. Smith O'Brien arrived in Detroit on Thursday, from his trip through the Southwest, and had an enthusiastic reception. He was escorted to the Biddle House, where an address of welcome was delivered by Mr. Wm. Gray. In reply, Mr. O'Brien spoke briefly of his impressions of the condition of his countrymen in the United States. The Detroit Advertiser gives the following report of his remarks:

"Mr. O'Brien commenced by saying that he was very much fatigued by travelling, and did not intend to enter at length into a speech. He was travelling simply as a private gentleman, but could not help responding to the expressions of kindness which had been made. Since his arrival in America, he had travelled over 5,000 miles, and had been in the principal cities, and during his journeys had met multitudes, and everywhere had met with enthusiastic greeting.

He found that hard work was done by the Irish, and in the South, where he thought he should find but few of his countrymen as laborers—where the climate was so warm—there were a great many; but it gave him pain to find that, all over the country, he found many of the Irish, who earned from one dollar and a half to two dollars per day, who spent it all in whiskey, and intimated that such of them would be better off in their native land, earning a shilling per day, and where whiskey was better. He found that everybody who came to America from Ireland had a chance to become independent, and also that he had found many of them in affluent circumstances, and many holding prominent positions, and cited the mayor of Detroit—an Irishman—as an instance. He thought there should be the kindest feelings between the born Americans and Americans by adoption. He could see no reason for this kind reception by Irishmen other than that they loved the land of their birth and should report to his friends at home that the Irishmen in America were all doing as well as they expected to when they left Ireland. [A voice in the crowd—"Three cheers for Tipperary."] "Yes," responded Mr. O'Brien, "and one for old Ireland."

CHARLES COUNTY, MARYLAND.—Our Circuit Court has been in session since Monday, and for holding Court we have had the most delightful weather, so far. His honor, Judge Crain, is present, giving his usual close attention to the proceedings as they transpire. Although no term was held last fall, we understand the dockets are still small. On the criminal docket not a single case appears for an offence against the State, other than for some slight misdemeanor—a fact no less gratifying to every good citizen than creditable to our whole community; and did the custom prevail here, as formerly in England, our Sheriff might well have presented the Judge with a pair of white gloves, to be worn on the opening of the present term.

In the absence of Mr. Cooksey, the efficient Clerk of this Court, from indisposition, his place has been most ably filled by Mr. Henry Brooke, of Prince George's county, a young gentleman who is evidently quite familiar with the duties of the office.—Port Tobacco Times.

What are Fomites!

One week ago not ten men cared what "fomites" meant, but the action of the late Quarantine Convention has brought the word into everybody mouth. That Convention by a vote of 85 to 8, recorded as its opinion that "personal quarantine of yellow fever cases may safely be abolished, provided that fomites of every kind be rigidly restricted." The New York Times says:—

"Fomites, according to Dunglison's Lexicon, "is the plural of fomes—fuel, anything which retains heat. A term applied to substances which are supposed to retain contagious effluvia, as woolen goods, feathers, cotton, &c." In its larger sense, however, it is used of any and all clothing, all bales, boxes, and casks of goods, all bedding and filth, and the ships themselves that have brought yellow fever to port. It was long a question whether the human body, when charged with yellow fever, might not be properly cosidered fomites. When one has inhaled ether, his breath and everything about him for days advertises the fact by its peculiar odor. Might not the poison of yellow fever also cling to the sufferer from it for days, and be emitted in his breath or by his insensible perspiration with sufficient virulence to propagate the miasm? It was not unreasonable to suppose that it might, but as there is no case on record where the person has possessed this poisonous power, the Convention did not hesitate to declare that persons are not fomites. So the Convention has no objection to the removal of the sick with yellow fever from on shipboard to the Broadway hospital, or to their homes, nor to passengers, on infected vessels, if with changed clothing, and personally in cleanly condition, spreading themselves at will through the City."

The Tragedy at North Adams, Mass.

The Springfied Republican, in giving an account of the sad tragedy at North Adams, Mass., resulting in the death of Miss Martha Butler and the flight of Mr. Chas. Littlefield, her alleged seducer, says:

Mr. Littlefield was a young man, a native of Dover, N. H., and went to the Adams Bank, as cashier, some two years ago, from Amesbury, Mass., where he had been teller in the Village Bank, and where he married in a respectable family. Miss Butler was, we believe, a relative of his wife, and if so was also from Amesbury, and lived in the family. Mr. Littlefield, as well as Miss Butler, have heretofore been of unimpeached character, and he, at least, was a church member. His accounts with the bank are found without blemish. These developments have naturally created a deep sensation and sorrow in Adams, which will extend to the other circles of relatives and friends of the fallen elsewhere.

Another account states that Mr. L. and Miss B. were members of the same Church and choir. She was between sixteen and seventeen years of age, and said to have been beautiful as she was youthful. An intimacy between Littlefield and the young lady followed a short acquaintance, but it was never suspected to exceed the bounds of propriety. Late last week she was taken violently ill, and on Saturday died. On her death bed she charged Littlefield with not only her seduction, but with procuring for her medicine, which she took, causing her death. It is supposed that, had not Littlefield suddenly decamped on the death of Miss Butler becoming known, he would have been lynched.

Engineer Convicted of Manslaughter.

We have already announced the conviction of Daniel Davis, engineer of the steamer Ocean Spray, on an indictment for manslaughter, growing out of the destruction of that vessel by fire, whereby some ten lives were lost. The case came on for trial this week before the United States Circuit Court, and was patiently heard, and the accused ably defended. The Jury found him guilty, leaving the court to fix the punishment.—This is the first conviction ever had under the law of Congress providing for the protection of life and property on board of steamboats, and the example, it is hoped, will not be lost on those who have charge of our steam vessels. It has now been shown that the law is not a dead letter, and that it can be enforced against those who violate its provisions. A few verdicts of this kind, whether applied to steamboats or railroads, will have a wonderful effect in inducing more care on the part of those who have charge of them, and the number of disasters will be greatly lessened.

The case of the engineer on board the Col. Crosman, under a similar indictment for manslaughter, is now on trial in the same court.--St. Louis Republican April 20.

"The Black Doctor."

Championniere's Journal of Practical Medicine and Surgery, a well-known Paris medical periodical, contains an article giving some account of a mulatto known as "the black doctor," who is creating some stir in Paris by his pretensions to effect a radical cure of cancer. Velpeau, the celebrated surgeon, has invited this new practitioner to experiment upon a number of patients who are afflicted with cancer in the hospital of La Charite, and the invitation has been accepted. At last accounts the experiments had been going on for several weeks. The house surgeons of La Charite have declared in a letter written to the Courrier de Paris, that "nothing as yet leads them to foresee the predicted results, and that, on the contrary, the greater part of the patients effected with cancer under treatment have been in rather more pain since they have been under the care of the black doctor."

Suppose the Conservative WHIGS of the Union, should, at the next Presidential election, nominate such a man as Wm. C. Rives, or John Bell, or J. J. Crittenden, or Edward Everett—a man, sound in his political principles, as far as the rights of all the States are concerned, and opposed to any infringement upon the constitutional and lawful "rights" of the South—and the "Republicans" of the North, were to vote for him? Would any true Southern man object to that? Would it not be, in effect, destroying sectional issues, and bringing parties once again, face to face, upon national questions? And should not true Democrats, if they are sincere in their opposition to the present "Republican" organization, desire this?

COMMERCIAL.

Monetary.

The money market during the week has been quiet. The demand for discounts is not, however, heavy. The circulation of the Banks is considerably reduced, caused by the redemption law, which took effect on the 1st instant. Exchange on the North is, however, ½ ₱ cent., while all the Banks of the State have to redeem at ¼ of 1 ₱ ct., which is a singular state of affairs. Time will correct this. The result will be that the Banks will pay out their own notes and branch notes, and send home the notes of each other, relying to a great extent on their neighborhood circulation.—A sale of $4000 Coupon Bonds, were made at 98¾, flat, this week. We hear of no other sales of Bonds or Stock during the week, except in a retail way at last quotations.

REMARKS.—The market for breadstuffs during the week has been very active, and prices have advanced. The demand for Flour has been steady, with considerable sales at $6 37½@$6 50 for standard Superfine, and $7 25@$7 50 for Extra, closing firm. The receipts of Wheat have increased, but are still very light. Sales in the early part of the week at 157@158c. for red, and 165@170c. for white. Yesterday there were some small parcels very good sold at 160c. for red, and 170@173c. for white, showing an advance of fully 10c. ₱ bushel. Of Corn, the receipts have been fair, with a very active demand, prices ranging from 80c. by measure to 83@85c. by weight for white, and 85@87c. for yellow. Rye may be quoted at 95@100c., with small receipts. No Oats offering. The grocery market remains in 'statu quo.' The arrivals of Fish during the week have been small. At some of the shores, operations for the season have been suspended, and generally, those engaged in the business have not been successful.—Prices have receded a little since our last report, and we quote Shad at $12@$13 ₱ hundred; Herring $11 50@$12 per thousand. Vessels are scarce, and in demand at advanced rates of freight. There is between 20,000 and 30,000 tons of coal at the wharves, enough to supply all demands for six weeks, should navigation cease for that length of time, which is not at all probable.

The Markets.

BALTIMORE, May 6.—Flour closed firm; Howard street and Ohio $6 50. Wheat closed excited; white $1.75 for choice and $1.50@$1.76 for good to prime. Corn has advanced 1 cent; white 85@86c.; yellow 86@88c. Provisions unchanged; bacon sides 9¾c. Whiskey closed firm; sales of 400 bbls. at 26½ for City.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Flour closed with an advance of 10@20c.; State $5.25@$6.25 Ohio $6.80 @$7.10; Southern $6.75@$7. Wheat closed with an advance of 2@3c.; Western red 153@155c.; white 160c. Corn closed higher; mixed 89@90c.; white 90c.; round yellow 93c. Pork closed steady; mess $16.37; prime $12.50@$12.60. Lard closed dull at 11@11½c. Whiskey is held at 27@27½c. Stocks are dull and heavy. Va. 6's 97¾. Mo. 6's 87¾. Sterling Exchange is higher at 110½.

RICHMOND, May 5.—Small sales of Flour—no change in prices. Superfine $7.25. Wheat—prime white $1.60; do. red $1.50. Corn—holders asking 90@95c. Oats 50@55c.

Baltimore Cattle Market, May 5.

BEEF CATTLE.—The offerings at the Scales today amounted to 525 head. Of the number offered 175 head were driven to Philadelphia and New York, 100 left over unsold, and the remainder purchased by Baltimore butchers at prices ranging from $4 to $6 25 ₱ 100 lbs. gross, and averaging $5 50. A few extra Cattle brought prices a shade higher than the outside quotation. There was no change in the market, the decline which appears in the average price being in consequence of the inferior quality of the Cattle on the market for sale.

SHEEP.—The supply has fallen off this week, and prices are stiffer; sales have been made at $4@$5 ₱ 100 lbs. gross.

HOGS.—The supply has been fair this week, and the market dull and inanimate, but prices continue about the same; sales at $7 75@$9 ₱ 100 lbs., as to quality.

Richmond Money Market—Exchange.

The Banks are discounting freely, and the demand for money on the street is very limited, for A. No. 1 paper 1@1½ per cent.

DOMESTIC—Checks on New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, ¾ premium.

The old Banks throw out the notes of the free Banks and Banks of the Valley. The notes of most of the free Banks, however, are taken on deposit by the Bank of the Commonwealth.

The notes of the Trans-Alleghany Bank are 25 per ct. discount. Bank of Kanawha 10 per ct. discount.

North and South Carolina Bank notes ¾ per ct. discount.

Gold and Silver ½.

RAILROAD FREIGHTS.—It is understood that the managers of the leading Railroads from East to West, after having run down their "through charges" for freights and passengers to ridiculously low rates, have been for the past few days, at the instance of the New York roads, negotiating in some manner for a termination of the destructive war which has been lately carried on between them. The Erie and the New York Central had invited the Pennsylvania Central and the Baltimore and Ohio Roads to meet them, but the President of the latter did not think proper, after former efforts, to respond further than by promising the attendance at New York of the general freight agent of his road, Mr. Mears. What has been or is likely to be the general result of the conference has not transpired, but it was announced here yesterday, that the roads have agreed upon an advance in the rates on provisions from Louisville, as follows: 35 cents ₱ cwt. and 90 cts. ₱ bbl., to take effect from to-day.—Balt. Sun.

The Baltimore American says:—"Capital both in private hands and at Bank continues to accumulate, and the deposits within the past few days have been very largely increased, while the offerings of paper have been limited, consequently the tendency in the rates of discount has been to depreciate. Good paper is easily placed at 6 ₱ ct. for both double and single names. The Banks are doing all the good paper that offers at the usual legal rates, and many of them are in want of it."

Goggin on the Eastern Shore!

We have received no written communication from the Eastern Shore, but verbal accounts assure us that our indomitable candidate had a glorious time both in Northampton and Accomac. At Drummond Town, Mr. Goggin mounted the stand and held forth for two hours, amid such demonstrations of enthusiasm and applause as we may venture to say he has not received to a greater extent throughout the whole canvass.—Having spoken two hours he descended from the stand; but there was a universal cry for him to resume it and continue to speak, with which he complied, and spoke half an hour longer. The people seemed almost beside themselves with joyful enthusiasm, and crowded around him with hearty congratulations and assurances of the admiration and delight with which he had inspired them. Look out for an 1840 majority from old Accomac, on the 26th.—Norfolk Herald.

OBITUARY.

DIED, at his residence, near Prospect Hill, in Fairfax County, on Thursday morning the 21st ultimo, Col. SPENCER MOTTROM BALL, aged 59 years. The decease of one so generally known and beloved, calls for more than a passing notice. A native of Westmoreland county, in this State, at a very early age he removed with his honored parents to the county of Fairfax, and continued one of its most estimable citizens up to the time of his death. The elements of his character were so striking and genial, that he could not pass through life without attracting all capable of appreciating genuine nobility of soul. Warm and generous in all his impulses, a warm friend in prosperity, a sympathising friend in adversity, the tones of his voice, the glance of his eye, the grasp of his hand, were true exponents of the inner man; and the numerous friends that clustered around him, were mental tributes to his worth. His name and character will not be soon forgotten through the extensive circle of his acquaintance; many a tear will be dropped to his memory when it is known that he sleeps in the grave. Since the sad bereavement he sustained in the death of his cherished wife, he seemed to droop and languish for lack of that which had been so long the joy and refreshment of his very existence. Adversities in quick succession, and tedious illness, clouded his latter days; but it is consoling to know that "The Friend" that sticketh closer than a brother drew near to him amid nature's painful decay, and offered him an arm to lean upon in his descent to the dark valley. May Heaven's blessing rest upon his orphaned sons and daughters. AMICUS.

MR. TOWNSEND ELGIN departed this life on the 23d of April, 1859, in the 27th year of his age, at the residence of his brother, Mr. Hampton Elgin, Fairfax County, Virginia. Mr. E. was for a number of years a great sufferer, but he bore his afflictions with much patience and fortitude. He was a pious young man. He lived an exemplary life, and died a peaceful and happy death. "And I heard a voice from Heaven, saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them." May this dispensation be sanctified to the present and future good of his family and friends.

GENERAL BAPTIST ASSOCIATION OF VA.—At the afternoon session very little of importance was done. The chief matter of interest before them was the report of the Bible Boards, read by Rev. T. G. Jones, of Norfolk. Short addresses were made on the subject of Bible distribution by the Rev. Dr. Broaddus and Rev. T. G. Jones. Rev. C. Tyree, then offered a resolution, that the Board call the attention of Colporteurs specifically to the great destitution in Virginia of the Word of God, and that they be requested to report all such destitution which they cannot supply, to the Bible Board. Rev. L. W. Allen offered an amendment, which was accepted, that the Colporteurs be authorized to distribute Bibles to servants (with the consent and approval of their masters) wherever they are found able to read. This amendment drew forth several speeches from various gentlemen.

THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION will assemble at the First Church this morning. Rev. Dr. R. B. C. Howell, of Nashville, Tennessee, is the President. A large delegation has already arrived, and more are expected from the South. There will doubtless be many warm and interesting discussions of matters pertaining to the interest of the denomination throughout the South. The Convention will be in session several days, and on Sunday the various pulpits of the city will be filled by its ministers.—Richmond Ex.

B. H. SHACKELFORD, ESQ.—This gentleman, who is the opposition elector for this District, has been prevented heretofore, from commencing the canvass, by circumstances of a private nature, added to the uninterrupted continuance of court here for five weeks. On Monday last, he opened the campaign at Brentsville, where he met in discussion his courteous and talented opponent, Gen. Hunton, the Democratic elector. We are informed by those present that our champion has abated naught of the zeal and order of other campaigns in which he has borne a conspicuous part; but that he signalized his earnest devotion to the glorious old Whig cause with his accustomed patriotism and ability.

Mr. Shackelford expects to speak at Rappahannock, next Monday, at which time and place, Gen Hunton, will probably be prevented from attending, by the sitting of the Circuit Court in Prince William. They have made appointments for various meetings in the District.—Warrenton Whig.

HON. R. C. WINTHROP'S ADDRESS.—A large and intelligent audience assembled at the African Church, last night, to hear the address of Hon. R. C. Winthrop, of Boston, before the Young Men's Christian Association of Richmond, and we are sure we express the unanimous opinion of his hearers when we say all were delighted. Mr. Winthrop is one of the first men in Massachusetts, and belongs to that conservative class of Northern patriots who hold country above party, and who cannot be moulded to the will of the fanatics of his section to the disregard of the Constitution and the Union, from which all American greatness have sprung.—Rich. Disp.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday afternoon last, Mr. Robert Hill, aged about twenty years, went into the woods, near Dr. Gaines' mill, in Hanover county, to cut down a tree to get a crow's nest, and while chopping, an old dead tree near by fell upon him, crushing him to the ground and causing his death almost instantly. Justice William B. Sydnor, on hearing of the accident, held an inquest over the body, and the jury rendered a verdict of accidental death.—Rich. Disp.

The death of such a man as David Russell requires more than a passing notice. Every body within the limits of Winchester will miss him in their daily walks and business intercourse, and numerous friends in this and other counties will mingle their sorrows with ours.—Winchester Republican.

The present prospect for an unusually large crop of Wheat in the Valley, is cheering indeed. If no unforeseen disaster should yet befall it, our farmers will have cause to laugh in the very exuberance of their joy and independence when the present crop shall be ready for market.—Rockingham Register.

The Spring term of the Circuit Court of Rockingham county, will commence on Wednesday next.

Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Coal Trade.

For the week ending Saturday, May 4th, 5,940.09 tons of coal were shipped over the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad, and 5,340.09 over the road of the George's Creek Coal and Iron Company. Total shipments for the year from the entire region, 130,265.15 tons. During the week ending May 4th, 1859, 61 boats cleared this port, carrying 5,330 tons of coal. During the season, 573 boats cleared this port, carrying 65,588 tons.

Cumberland Coal and Iron Company vs. the Hoffman Steam Coal Company. We learn by a communication from New York, that in the Supreme Court of that State, in the case of the Cumberland Coal and Iron Company vs. Allen M. Sherman, Hoffman Steam Coal Company and others, before W. F. Allen, Justice, judgment was rendered for the defendants, dismissing summons, complaint, injunction, and all subsequent proceedings.

The revenue on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, for the week ending May 4th, was the sum of $8,428.78. This is the whole amount of ascending and descending revenue.—Cumb. Civilian.

WORCESTER'S QUARTO DICTIONARY.—Messrs. Hinckling, Swan & Brewer, of Boston, have in press, and expect to publish, during the coming Summer or Fall, by subscription, a Dictionary of the English Language, by Joseph E. Worcester, LL.D., to be completed in one large quarto volume, of about 1800 pages. It will be printed on extra fine paper, with large margin, and will be furnished to subscribers at $7.50, which will be the retail price of the common edition. Persons subscribing, will, therefore, get the Library Edition at the same price as the common edition.
This new Dictionary will contain a full vocabulary of the words now used in Literature, Art, and Science, with such local and obsolete terms as are met with in writings that are now much read. In Orthography, the work will represent the best usage, both in this country and in England. The Pronunciation will be exhibited by a system of notation which will be easily understood. In Etymology, this work will be more complete than any work of the kind. The definitions will be accurately discriminated, and exemplified by citations from the best authors. The treatment of Synonymes will form a very valuable feature of the work. The grammatical forms and inflections of words will be given more fully than in any English Dictionary before published. The Illustrations, by wood cuts, of which there will be about 1200, beautifully executed, will form another novel and useful feature of this Dictionary. In an Appendix will be added Walker's Key to the Pronunciation of Classical and Scripture Proper Names, much enlarged and improved; a Pronouncing Vocabulary of Modern Geographical Names; a collection of Phrazes and Quotations from Foreign Languages; Abreviations used in Writing and Printing, &c.
☞ A specimen of the work, with the style of Binding, &c., may be seen at my Store, where I shall be pleased to take the names of those who may wish to subscribe.

LOCAL ITEMS.

COAL—SCARCITY OF VESSELS.—So active have been the coal companies shipping from this port, since the commencement of the season for boating, and until the recent break in the canal, that there is now accumulated at the wharves here, between 20,000 and 30,000 tons of coal ready for shipment, a sufficient quantity of itself to meet all demands for five or six weeks to come, should navigation on the canal cease for so long a period, which is not anticipated. Vessels are in great demand to ship this coal, and could obtain very remunerative freights. The Georgetown Coal Merchants advertise that boats continue to arrive by the Canal, freighted with heavy cargoes of coal, and stored in large quantities, in consequence of the scarcity of vessels for Eastern ports.

MILITIA.—The officers of the 175th Regiment, Virginia Militia, have for the past three evenings been training at the Court House, in this place, under command of Brigade Inspector Norborne Berkeley, of the 6th Brigade, 2nd Div. V. M., preparatory to the Regimental muster, which takes place to-day.

AUCTION SALE OF FISH.—S. J. McCormick, Auctioner, sold yesterday at the Warehouse of Wm. H. Fowle & Son, two hundred and eighteen barrels Eastern Herring at $2.62½@$3.00. The attendence at the sale was large.

FISH MARKET.—The supply of fish yesterday, was about the same as for some days past, and prices remain unchanged, viz:—Shad $11 to $13 per hundred; herring $11½ to $12 per thousand.

HEAVY FOG.—Yesterday morning early, there was a very heavy fog on the river, which, for two or three hours, impeded navigation.

THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION.—Under the management of Professor Henry and his condjutor, Professor Baird, the Smithsonian is growing more attractive daily. Within a short time, many interesting additions have been made to the collections in the museum and galleries, now so inviting to the visitors in Washington, and to the students resident in the District.

We noticed this morning that the work of arranging cases of very beautiful specimens of fossils collected in Nebraska is going on. The cases now preparing are but the beginning of the arrangement of the extensive collections of Evans and Dr. D. D. Owen.—These specimens are noted by Dr. Joseph Leidy, in the "Smithsonian Contributions to Knowledge," in which Dr. L. gives "a description of extinct mammalia and chelonia from the mauvaises terres of Nebraska."—When completed, the cases will contain a very extensive, beautiful, and interesting collection.

The department of the Museum, in which Prof. Henry has employed Mr. C. Drexler, the skilful taxidermist, is also gaining attractive specimens. Among those recently prepared and now ready for arrangement we notice a fine specimen of the grizzly bear, from the vicinity of Fort Laramie.

The Professors are interested in the procurement of the most perfect collection possible of American birds, and Mr. Drexler has given much attention to their preparation. Pairs of wild and tame turkeys, a pair of snowy owls, a specimen of the golden eagle, a pair of bald eagles, and a number of hawks, from the Western Territories, have been prepared by him within a short time.—Washington Star.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.—The "Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church," on the beautiful eminence, near Alexandria, has just had a spacious building completed, and is now occupied by the students. In the senior class this year there are 11, middle class 12, and the junior 24—in all 47. Since the organization of this fine institution in 1823, the alumni consists of 357 graduates, including three bishops, and fifteen foreign missionaries, of whom four have died in distant lands. The annual examinations will take place this year on the 21st and 22nd of June. They will be succeeded by the commencement ceremonies on Thursday, the 23d inst. The following young gentlemen will, doubtless, then receive holy orders, by ordination: Phillips Brooks, of Massachusetts, graduate of Harvard University, 1855; Charles E. Chaney, New York, graduate of Hobart Free College, 1857; Thomas G. Clemson, Jr., of Delaware; Joseph Kidder, Jr., of Pennsylvania; Gustavus W. Mayer, Virginia, graduates of Princeton College, 1857; William F. Paddock, New York, graduate of Hamilton College, 1853; Marshall B. Smith, of Pennsylvania; George A. Strong, Virginia, graduates of Kenyon College, 1850; Elliott H. Thompson, Virginia; Hale Townsend, Pennsylvania, graduates of Hobart Free College, 1856; Thomas S. Yocum, Pennsylvania, graduate of Union College, 1856.—Balt. Sun.

A PRESENTATION.—Last evening the presentation of a Bible was made with due form and ceremony, to the Rev. Dr. Haley, of the Unitarian Church, at the National Hotel, in acknowledgment of some service rendered to Daniel E. Sickles, while in prison. It is understood that certain ladies are at the bottom of the movement. The affair was signalized by a presentation speech, and one from the minister accepting the memorial, in which he referred to the scriptural injunction to visit those who are sick and in prison. To its report of the proceedings and Dr. Haley's speech, an afternoon paper adds: "A query suggests itself in reading the Rev. Mr. Haley's acceptation speech. He quotes the Scripture injunction to visit those in prison. Has he ever visited the prison before or since the Sickles trial?"—Wash. Corr. of Baltimore Sun.

THE BALTIMORE AND POTOMAC RAILROAD.—The writer who suggests the route to Hooe's Ferry for the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, is under the impression that if it was adopted, Port Tobacco would be cut off.—From what we know of the topography of our county we think this would not be the case, but rather that it would come nearer to us by this, than by the Aquia Creek route.—Port Tobacco Times.

SOUTHERN PROTECTION INSURANCE COMPANY,
ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA.
CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS,
AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING.
The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of the
CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE.
This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States.
All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Company.

OCCOQUAN MILLS AT PUBLIC SALE.—The above well known MILLS will be offered for sale, by auction, on Wednesday, June 1st, 1859, at 12 o'clock, M., in front of the Mayor's Office, Alexandria. They are situated in the town of Occoquan, Prince William county, Va., at the head of tide water, on the Occoquan river, and have water carriage to Alexandria, (from which they are distant about sixteen miles by land,) by means of the Occoquan and Potomac rivers. In the Merchant or Flouring MILL we run three pairs of five and a half, and three pairs of five feet FRENCH BURRS.
The north wall of the MILL stands on the Occoquan river, so that vessels deliver grain into the MILL, and FLOUR is lowered by block and tackle into their holds.
There is also a GRIST MILL, with one pair of BURRS, a SAW-MILL, and PLASTER MILL. The water-wheels are all twenty feet high, and overshot. The water power and privileges are known to be the most valuable between the Potomac and Rappahannock.
There is excellent opportunity to select any quality of wheat in the Alexandria market, and the supplies derived from the neighboring country are considerable.
The situation is as healthy, perhaps, as any in the world.
At the same time will be offered for sale, a FRAME DWELLING, used as the Miller's house, and a LARGE STONE MANSION, with all the necessary out-buildings, GARDEN, ORCHARD, &c., and beautifully situated. Possession given immediately.

THE PREMIUM SADDLE STALLION—TOM G. TELEGRAPH claims the above title, having taken every premium for which he has contended.
The editor of the American Farmer, an agricultural paper published in Baltimore, having witnessed the performance of this horse at the United States Fair, in Richmond, and the Virginia State Fair at Petersburg, writes of him thus:
"But one of the very best saddle horses we have ever seen, was the superb dark bay stallion exhibited by N. Berkeley, esq., of Loudoun county, Va. He was of the Telegraph breed, or, as it is most familiarly known in Maryland, the "Tom" breed; certainly the best breed altogether for saddle horses of easy, yet rapid gait, in this country; and particularly adapted, by their kind and gentle dispositions, to ladies' use. We watched the rapid pace of Mr. Berkeley's stallion, and his sure and firm, but easy gait, as he was repeatedly ridden around the ring, with the same admiration which all who witnessed the performance warmly expressed, and felt fully justified in the preference we have always felt for the admirable breed for the saddle. There are two gentlemen in Baltimore county, whose stock of Tom horses are particularly fine; but we have never seen any of the breed so large and very desirable, as the stallion exhibited by Mr. Berkeley."
TOM G. is a rich bay, 16 hands 1 inch high, of strong bone, great muscle, and superior action; was sired by Rogers' Tom Telegraph, and out of a famous Jack O'Diamond saddle mare. His colts are without a single exception, bays, and of fine size. He will commence the season at my stable on Monday, April 4th, and continue there one week. He will divide the next week between Leesburg and Wheatland, will go to Leesburg on Monday, and to Wheatland, on Thursday, and alternately between the stands, being at home every other week.
TERMS.—Twenty dollars insurance, due when the mare is known to be in foal; but from those who pay before April 1st, 1860—fifteen dollars will be received in full. Twenty dollars will be rigidly and impartially exacted from all who fail to pay before that date. Any one sending five mares of his own can name a sixth one gratis.—They must be returned regularly. Parting from a mare will forfeit the insurance.
Good pasturage furnished mares from a distance at $1 per month, and every care taken to prevent accidents, but no responsibility assumed.

NELSON LAND FOR SALE.—The subscriber desires to sell privately his farm situated on Rockfish River, in Nelson county, fourteen miles from Afton Depot, on the Central Railroad, and about the same distance from the Lynchburg Extension, to the latter of which depots there is a very fine road, and to the other, one is being constructed. The tract contains EIGHT HUNDRED AND FORTY ACRES, four hundred and fifty of which are cleared, two hundred is bottom land, and the residue is finely timbered. It lies within a mile of a Merchant, Grist and Saw Mill. The buildings comprise a good DWELLING and all necessary out houses. This farm lies on the Rockfish River, in a valley noted as one of the most beautiful, picturesque and fruitful in Virginia.
In my absence, Mr. R. H. Coleman, who lives convenient, will take pleasure in showing the farm to any one wishing to purchase. Letters addressed to him at Rockfish P. O., Nelson, or to the subscriber at Rose Mills, Amherst county, will meet with prompt replies.
Reference is also made to Dr. John R. Woods, near Ivy Depot, Albemarle, who is well acquainted with this farm.

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 7, 1859.

THE RIGHT TRAINING OF WOMEN.

The Church of England Review has an article on female education, from which we take the following passage:

"Much remains to be done in winnowing out of people's minds ridiculous ideas of a certain purely factitous style of living, without which it is impossible to keep house.—There are plenty of young men who have to unlearn the foppery of expenses disproportioned to their means, and the sordidness of luxuries which feed, not self-respect, but gluttony and pride. The possibility must be secured to daughters and younger sisters growing to be rational, appreciative companions; girls who, if they are ever married, will choose and value their husband for what he is, and be interested in his calling and his opportunities of observation—women who will estimate the grave and sweet realities of wife and motherhood, beyond any accident of precedence or superfluity. By dismissing false and foolish notions of respectability, by refusing the cheap fascinations of a paltry education of display, by discountenancing restraints misdirected or too rigorous, by cultivating an intelligent and unassuming mode of intercourse, by a careful foresight in assisting young people to prepare themselves for the exertion and cost of one day being the centre of a peaceful, hospitable home; in these and other ways, much may be done to remove obstructions to that gradual acquaintance and that unaffected respect and attachment which lead on to a happy marriage.

In the mean time it will be well to think, with not only the sympathy, but the veneration they deserve, of many among those who will never marry, to assist in multiplying the too few occupations suitable to women, or too open to them; above all, not to preach, by implication or otherwise, that woman's life need never be dwarfed to a negation, or consumed miserably away, by causes completely out of her control. There are women strong enough to keep their footing in the world singly, without a loss of womanly dignity and sweetness, and to organize around them the moral elements at all events, of an independent existence. They whose steps are feeble need the more to be helped rather than hindered in the struggle with their fainting and more yielding self. If they fall here, is it at all certain that in wedded life their lot would have been auspicious Alas! how many a faltering will has been bent and "given" beneath sanguine, unfulfilled resolutions to reclaim and humanize the husband who has pulled the wife down instead to his own mean and wretched level. Marriage is not a lottery, but it is more wilful blindness to forget that in all its higher aspects it may be wofully inverted or appalingly debased. Not all the grand provisions of tender ties and gracious insincts which surround one of the greatest of divine ordinances, will make people pure or happy who insist on being peevish or frivolous, or worldly, sensual, or devilish.

Wedded life is a great and a holy mystery, and a source of power for good, often far beyond estimation; but unless there be at least one soul filled with unselfish love, and strong in an unflagging faith, the formal union between two persons is no guarantee whatever for a will ennobled, or affections enlarged or cleansed. And the faith which so works by love can make a sunshine in a shady place without an infant's or a husband's eye to look into. The harmonies of a developed and transfigured womanhood have been set many a time to other music than that of wedding-bells. She who is enthroned never, under any roof, in a mother's holy sovereignty, may earn the right, in many a house, of compelling every soul to love her. She will create or find an atmosphere in which to keep unwithered "the heart out of which are the issues of life." Her hands will redeem the time, and her brain not be idle. Living singly, yet not solitary, when she dies it will not be till "smote" by many a touch of gratitude and cheerful, reverential sympathy, "the chord of self has trembled past in music out of sight."

In "Littell's Age," there is a majestic sketch of the younger Pitt, by Lord Macaulay. We cull this extract:

"There was something noble in the cynical disdain with which the mighty minister scattered riches and titles to right and left among those who valued them, while he spurned them out of his way. Poor himself, he was surrounded by friends on whom he bestowed three thousand, six thousand, ten thousand a year. Plain Mister himself, he had made more lords than any three ministers that had preceded him. The garter, for which the first dukes in the kingdom were contending, was repeatedly offered to him and offered in vain."

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no re-winding of thread. They Hem, Fell, Gather, and Stitch in a superior style, finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. They will do better and cheaper sewing than a seamstress can, even if she works for one cent an hour, and are, unquestionably, the best Machines in the market for family sewing, on account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing—executing either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.
As evidence of the unquestioned superiority of their Machines, the GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE COMPANY respectfully refer to the numberless testimonials to be seen at their principal depot, and with their agents. mh 10—eo2m

SOMBRERO GUANO.
IN calling the attention of the public to this valuable and recently discovered deposit of this fertilizing article, we will merely state, that like all other phosphatic GUANOS, its most valuable constituent is phosphoric acid, or bone phosphate of lime; and that its mercantile value, as compared with other GUANOS of its kind, may be easily determined by the amount of phosphoric acid or bone phosphate of lime it contains. In order, therefore, to give the public a thorough knowledge of what SOMBRERO GUANO does contain, we beg to refer to the following list of eminent chemists in different parts of the world, who have analyzed different cargoes, from average samples taken by themselves from the cargoes just as they arrive from the island, without drying or selection of specimens for analyzation. Each analysis will be exhibited, if required, under the original signature of each chemist named:
Of phosphoric acid, estimated as equivalent to phosphate of lime, it is found to contain—per cent.

Thus proving that the value of this GUANO is not determined by a SELECTED CHEMIST, or SELECTED SPECIMENS, or even SELECTED CARGOES, but an average of the importations just as they arrive, and just as they are offered to the public for sale.
And for a like array of eminent authority, promiscuously obtained from promiscuous cargoes, in different parts of the world, we challenge a comparison with any phosphatic GUANO now for sale.
